Introduction

When twenty-three-year-old Rebecca Westfall Boggs reached the Oregon Territory from Union Township, Iowa around 1862, it was not her first months-long journey to a developing frontier, but her second. Thirteen years earlier, Rebecca's family arrived in Iowa from Jackson County, West Virginia - her father and older brothers in pursuit of new land to farm, as so many others were in an expanding country pushing ever-westward. In Oregon, Rebecca set the western-most point that the Westfall family line had yet reached since their earliest documented ancestors in Holland.

In 1862, the Westfalls had been in America for over two hundred years, among the first generation of Dutch settlers in the colony called "New Netherland", along the Hudson River in present-day New York. Any ancestral tree is, of course, the confluence of many families: Westfalls lived alongside and married Jansens, Cools, Bogarts, De Graws, De Hooges, De Duysters ... all recent arrivals from Holland in the mid-1600's. Most were farmers and homemakers, though there were wagon makers, millwrights, boat pilots, and bookkeepers too.

The Westfalls and their related families settled in New York for three generations before Rebecca's great-great-grandfather, Abel John Westfall was, in 1748, granted 400 acres of land on the Great South Branch of the Potomac in what would later become West Virginia.

And there the Westfalls remained, farming the land for another three generations until Rebecca's father, Clark Westfall, took the family west to Iowa in 1849. Iowa is where Rebecca married Albert Boggs and it was with Boggs and their two young sons that Rebecca headed west again in 1862 -- this time to Oregon.

The report you're reading is called a "paternal pedigree" because it traces the ancestry of Rebecca's father, Clark Westfall -- offering short profiles of the parents and children for each generation of Westfalls and adjacent families going back to their immigration from Europe in the 1600's. It does not contain their complete stories, of course, but a compilation of the names, dates, places, and events, as well as a directory of the sources where that information is found. I hope that family members and family researchers alike find this an informative resource and a fitting tribute.

Rebecca Westfall [1]

Rebecca was born about 1839 in what is today West Virginia -- likely in the Frozen Camp area of Jackson County -- the sixth child of Clark Watson Westfall [2] and Permilla "Millie" Cutright [3].<sup>2</sup>

Permilla died in 1846 and within three years the remaining family, along with Clark's second wife, Martha, left West Virginia in April 1849 for Lucas County, Iowa where Clark had purchased a track of land.<sup>3</sup> For Clark, however, the three-month journey ended fifty miles short of its destination as he died in Eddyville, Iowa in July.<sup>4</sup> From 1850 to 1856, Rebecca, her siblings, and their stepmother lived in the household of Rebecca's oldest brother Granville in Union Township.<sup>5</sup>

On 7 Dec 1856, when Rebecca was 17, she married Albert Boggs in Lucas County and around 1862 they moved west with their two young sons to the growing community that would later become the city of John Day, Oregon.<sup>6</sup>

Ending the abusive marriage three years later, Rebecca divorced Boggs and left Oregon with her infant daughters Lydia and Meriba in 1865 to marry Norman F. Butler, a carpenter and building contractor in Walla Walla, Washington.<sup>8</sup> In 1871, small pox hit the town but their family was spared and Rebecca and Norman remained in Walla Walla; in 1885 they were still there with the three surviving children from their marriage: Edward, Stella Mae, and Martha.<sup>9</sup> Rebecca died the following year on 27 May 1886 at the age of 47 and she is buried at Mountain View Cemetery.<sup>10</sup>

- iii. LYDIA BOGGS, born about 1865 in Oregon, married Frank Westfall 21 Sep 1882.<sup>13</sup>
- iv. MERIBA BOGGS, born about 1865 in Oregon.<sup>14</sup>

Children of Norman F. and Rebecca (Westfall) Butler:

- v. EDWARD EVERETT BUTLER, born 19 Jan 1866 in Washington.<sup>15</sup>
- vi. JUSTUS/AUGUSTUS BUTLER, born about 1868 in Washington, died 09 Nov 1870.<sup>16</sup>
- vii. STELLA MAE BUTLER, born about 1870 in Washington, died about 1968.<sup>17</sup>
- viii. MARTHA B. BUTLER, born about 1872 in Washington.<sup>18</sup>

Clark Westfall [2] and Permilla Cutright [3]

Clark was born about 1808 -- the seventh child of Zachariah Westfall [4] and Hannah Woolf [5] -- in Buckhannon, Upshur County, West Virginia (then a part of Virginia).<sup>2</sup> Clark married Permilla Cutright [3] (also called “Millie”) on 15 Jan 1828 in Lewis County.<sup>3</sup> Permilla was the daughter of Abraham Cutright [6] and Susannah Bush [7] and was born about 1808 in what is now West Virginia.<sup>4</sup>

Clark became a schoolteacher, convening classes in cabin schoolhouses and vacant dwellings and, by 1840, Clark and Permilla were living in Jackson County with their five children, all under the age of ten.<sup>5</sup> In 1846, Clark purchased land near Frozen Camp Creek, but in March of that year Permilla died and was buried on the newly purchased land -- later named the Frozen Camp Cemetery in Jackson County.<sup>6</sup>

A year later, Clark married Martha R. Leal (or Teel) on 1 Aug 1847.<sup>7</sup> They sold the Frozen Camp property in 1849 and acquired a patent for land in Lucas County, Iowa, intending to resettle the family there.<sup>8</sup> Clark died before reaching their destination, however, passing away in Jul 1849 in the town of Eddyville, Iowa, where Clark was buried.<sup>9</sup> The remaining family continued the journey to Lucas County where they settled near Derby.<sup>10</sup>

Zachariah Westfall [4] and Hannah Woolf [5]

Zachariah was born 8 Jan 1769 in Montague, Sussex County, New Jersey, the son of Cornelius Bogart Westfall [8] and Elizabeth Westfall [9], and he was christened 18 Feb 1769 at the Machackemech Church in Port Jervis, New York.<sup>2</sup> His family moved to Hampshire County, Virginia (now West Virginia) in 1773, when Zachariah was four, and then to Beverly, Randolph County about 1787.<sup>3</sup>

Zachariah married Hannah Woolf [5] on 8 Jun 1788 in Randolph County.<sup>4</sup> Hannah was born about 1770, the daughter of Nicholas Woolf [10] and Christena Woolf [11].<sup>5</sup> The Westfalls moved to Buckhannon in Lewis County, settling on land purchased 18 Apr 1791 at Hackers Creek.<sup>6</sup>

Between 1810 and 1820, the family split time between residences in Harris and Lewis counties.<sup>7</sup> In 1827, they moved to Mill Creek, settling at the Buffalo Lick Run of Tug Fork, five miles from Ripley.<sup>8</sup> By 1830, however, Zachariah and Hannah returned to Lewis County for a short time with two of their children.<sup>9</sup> About 1834-1835, both Hannah and Zachariah died in Jackson County, West Virginia.<sup>10</sup>

Cornelius Bogart Westfall [8] and Elizabeth Westfall [9]

Cornelius was the son of Abel Westfall [16] and Annetje Bogear [17]; he was born in Machackemeck, New York (now Port Jervis) and baptized 15 Oct 1721 in Kingston.<sup>2</sup>

On 20 Nov 1747, Cornelius married Elizabeth Westfall [9] at the Reformed Church at Machackemeck; both Cornelius and Elizabeth were living in the hamlet of Seneyaugnquan (present day Deerpark) but later moved to Montague.<sup>3</sup> Elizabeth, who was Cornelius' first cousin, was born in 1727 and was the daughter of Jacob Westfall [18] (brother to Cornelius's father) and Margrietje DeDuyster [19].<sup>4</sup>

By 1757, the family was living in Sussex County, New Jersey.<sup>5</sup> Elizabeth died by 1774 and Cornelius later married Elizabeth's widowed sister Eleanor around 1778.<sup>6</sup>

About this time, the family moved to Hampshire County in what is now West Virginia; Cornelius took possession of land south of Moorefield (likely Petersburg) that his father and brother settled in the 1740's.<sup>8</sup> Cornelius was living in Hampshire County in 1782.<sup>9</sup> He is thought to have died soon after and was buried in Hardy County.<sup>10</sup> Children of Cornelius and Elizabeth (Westfall) Westfall:

Nicholas Woolf [10] and Christina Woolf [11]

Nicholas was the son of Nicolaus Wolff [20] and, possibly, Maria Elizabetha Bresslerin [21] and he was baptized 31 May 1749 in Middletown, Frederick County, Maryland.<sup>2</sup>

Based on the years of their children's marriages, Nicholas and Christina were likely married by 1768 and they're both referenced on a Frederick County land sale deed in 1773.<sup>3</sup> Although Nicholas's wife is listed in many modern family trees as né Christena Wetzel, this Christena was married to a John Jacob Wolfe from a well-documented West Virginia family without known connections to our Nicholas Woolf.<sup>4</sup> No verifiable record of Christena's maiden name has been found.

Woolf family members – likely his father and brothers - began appearing on Virginia records in the 1770's (and Nicholas's 1773 land sale may signal his own migration) but it isn't until 1782 that Nicholas Woolf and his own household, now six in total, were actually recorded in what is today Randolph County, West Virginia.<sup>5</sup>

Nicholas owned a farm, raising livestock, wheat, oats, and corn, on "Woolf Run" west of the Tygart Valley River.<sup>6</sup> Living on adjacent land was Benjamin Cutright and his wife Maria Cathrina Wolff, likely a sister or first cousin to Nicholas.<sup>7</sup>

The Woolf's remained in this area of Virginia for decades although the county boundaries and names changed repeatedly.<sup>8</sup> In Aug 1787, Nicholas served on the first grand jury of the newly formed Randolph County.<sup>9</sup>

Nicholas died on 4 Jul 1800 -- his wife Christina having passed away sometime prior -- and his will was settled Jan 1805 in Randolph County.<sup>10</sup>
Children of Nicholas and Christina Woolf:

- i. AGNES NANCY WOOLF, likely born by 1768, married George Stephens 16 Feb 1786 in Harrison County, West Virginia, died after 1805.<sup>11</sup>
- ii. ANDREW WOOLF, born about 1768, married Susannah by 1795, relocated to Bourbon County, Kentucky by 1795, died after 1805.<sup>12</sup>
- iii. HANNAH WOOLF [5]
- iv. MARGARET WOOLF, born about 1771, married John Westfall by 1792, died after 1805.<sup>13</sup>
- v. ANN WOOLF, born by about 1771, married Anthony Smith before 1800, died after 1805.<sup>14</sup>
- vi. JACOB WOOLF, born about 1771, died after 1805.<sup>15</sup>

Johannes Jurian Westphal [32] and Marretje J. Cool [33]

Johannes, a son of Jurian Westphal [64] and Marretje Hansen [65], was born in Esopus (now Kingston), in 1660.<sup>2</sup> His father died when Johannes was seven years old and when most of his siblings were even younger.<sup>3</sup>

Johannes married Marretje Jacobs Cool [33] in Kingston on 28 Jan 1683.<sup>4</sup> Marretje was a daughter of Jacob Barentsen Cool [66] and Marretje Simons [67] and was baptized in Kingston on 7 Mar 1666.<sup>5</sup>

Johannes and his family lived in Kingston for several decades, but in 1696, he and his siblings Rymerick, Symen, and Niclaes all moved their families southwest to what is now Orange County where they were granted land to farm in Waggackemeek (now Deerpark) conveyed to them by the Native American land owners there.<sup>6</sup>

In about 1697, Johannes moved his family to Rochester Township, near present day Accord, but around 1699 they settled in Machackemech (now Port Jervis).<sup>7</sup> Johannes and Marretje are both thought to have died in Machackemech in the mid-1720's.<sup>8</sup> Children of Johannes and Marretje (Cool) Westphal:

Cornelius Bogart was the son of Cornelius Corneliszn Bogaert [68] and Dirckje Pieterse Coeymans [69] and was born in Cossackie, NY about 1674.<sup>2</sup> On 16 Jul 1695 Cornelius married Evaatje Hoornbeck [35] in Kingston.<sup>3</sup>

Evaatje was born in 1671 in Hurley, Ulster County (baptized 18 Jun 1671 in Kingston), the oldest daughter of Warner Hoornbeck [70] and Anna De Hooges [71].<sup>4</sup> Evaatje died sometime after 1712 in Ulster County.<sup>5</sup>

Cornelius De Duyster [38] and Eleanora De Hooges [39]

Cornelius was born about 1667 in Ulster County, New York, the son of Jan Willemszen Ye Dutcher [76] and Margariet Cornelisse [77].<sup>12</sup> In 1686, Cornelius is reported absent when the citizens of Kingston, including Cornelius's father, Jan, took the oath of allegiance to the British government.<sup>13</sup>

In 1692, Cornelius married Eleanora De Hooges [39] in Kingston.<sup>14</sup> Eleonora was the daughter of Anthony De Hooges [78] and Eva Bradt [79] and was born in 1655 in NY.<sup>15</sup> Eleanora had previously been married to William Monjeur de La Montagne in 1673 and they had seven children together before William's death around 1688.<sup>16</sup>

Once married, Cornelius and Eleanora remained in Ulster County and were likely living in the town of Hurley in 1693 when their only child together, Margrietje De Duyster [19], was born.<sup>17</sup> By 1720, Cornelius is recorded living in Rochester and he last appears in New York records living at Minnising in 1738.<sup>18</sup>

Jurian Westphal [64] and Marretje Jansen [65]

As the son of Nicholas Jurian Westphalen [128], Jurian is thought to have had Prussian or German roots based on his surname, but his family lived in Leiderdorp, the Netherlands where Jurian was born about 1629.<sup>2</sup> Jurian left Leiderdorp on 6 Jun 1642 -- at age thirteen and seemingly without his family -- as one of several indentured servants aboard the Den Houttuyn bound for New Amsterdam (now New York).<sup>3</sup> On 11 Aug 1642, the Den Houttuyn arrived at the Rensselaerswyck estate on the Hudson River near Albany, where Jurian began his indenture as a farm laborer.<sup>4</sup>

In 1649, he purchased farmland from Evert Pels at Papscaene Island (see Appendix E, p. 53) just north of Rensselaerswyck.<sup>5</sup> About 1652, free now from his indenture, Jurian moved to Esopus (now Kingston) where he acquired a patent for about 70 acres of farmland.<sup>6</sup>

In 1654, Jurian married Marretje Jansen [65] – the daughter of Hans Jansen [130] and Reymerigh Volkert [131].<sup>7</sup> Marretje was born about 1626 in the Netherlands and her family migrated to the Esopus area in 1639.<sup>8</sup> By 1644, her mother had likely died, as Marretje, at the age of seventeen, was placed in the home of Phillip Garretson for three years where she learned sewing and housekeeping.<sup>9</sup>

In 1658, Jurian was managing farmland owned by New Netherland's governor Peter Stuyvesant in addition to farming his own patent of land in Esopus purchased 29 Aug 1654.<sup>10</sup>

In Oct 1659, Jurian and his family were in Esopus during a skirmish between settlers and members of the local Esopus tribe, resulting in several dead on both sides and an eight-day siege of the settlement (see also Appendix F, p. 54).<sup>11</sup>

Jurian died by 1667, around the age of thirty-eight, and was survived by his six children and wife Marretje, who later married Jacob Jansen of Stoutenburgh.<sup>12</sup>

Children of Jurian and Marretje (Hansen) Westphal:

- i. RYMERICK WESTPHAL, born 1655, married Thomas Quick in 1672.<sup>13</sup>
- ii. JOHANNES WESTPHAL [32]
- iii. ABEL WESTPHAL, born 25 Sep 1661.<sup>14</sup>
- iv. SYMEN WESTPHAL, born 30 Sep 1663, married Neeltje Quachenbos in 1692.<sup>15</sup>
- v. NICLAES WESTPHAL, born about 1665, married Maria Montanye in 1701, married Sara Van Aken in 1712.<sup>16</sup>
- vi. ELSJEN WESTPHAL, born 27 Jun 1666.<sup>17</sup>

Jacob Barentsen Cool [66] and Marretje Simons [67]

Jacob Barentsen Cool [66] was born about 1637 in the Netherlands, the son of Barent Jacobsen Cool [132] and Marretje Leenderts DeGraw [133]; as a very young child, Jacob and his family immigrated to New Amsterdam (New York) in 1638.<sup>2</sup>

In 1660, Jacob married Marretje Simons [67] and soon after moved to Esopus, now Kingston.<sup>3</sup> Marretje, the daughter of Sijmon Floriszen [134] and Claretje Arents [135], was born in the Netherlands 1 Oct 1632 and baptized 12 Oct.<sup>4</sup> Marretje was indentured to Pieter Pietersen Harder to pay her passage to America and by 1659 was living in New Amstel, Delaware.<sup>5</sup> On 19 Feb 1659, Marretje's brother-in-law Evert Pels (the same Evert Pels who sold Jurian Westphal [64] his first plot of farmland on Papscaene Island ten years earlier) paid the remainder of Marretje's indenture.<sup>6</sup>

By 1661, Jacob and Marretje moved to Esopus where Evert and Jannetje Pels were settled.<sup>7</sup> Upon Marretje's profession of faith 24 Jun 1661, she became a member of the Kingston Church and Jacob later joined the church on 15 Oct 1665.<sup>8</sup>

Once the English took over New Netherland, Jacob and Marretje moved to New York City where Jacob's father's family had settled and, on 7 Apr 1667, Jacob and Marretje became members of the Dutch Reformed Church in New York.<sup>9</sup> In 1669, Jacob became a wine and beer porter for the East India Company and he was soon sworn in as an exciseman for New York City (a position his father had recently held), responsible for collecting duty on liquor for the West India Company as well as transportation, buying, and selling of liquor.<sup>10</sup>

By 1678, Jacob and Marretje rented farmland in Kingston.<sup>11</sup> In 1685, they were living in Esopus and selling a Kingston house located next to a lot owned by Johannes Jurian Westfall [32].<sup>12</sup> In 1687, Jacob was in the militia at the fort at Kingston and, on 1 Sep 1687, he signed the oath of allegiance there.<sup>13</sup> Jacob and Marretje probably remained in Ulster County for the rest of their lives; Marretje likely passed away by 1695 but Jacob was listed on tax rolls and other documents as late as 1720.<sup>14</sup>

Children of Jacob Barentsen and Marretje (Simons) Cool:

- i. SIMON COOL, baptized 27 Mar 1661 in Kingston, married Anna Hendricks 2 Oct 1681 in Kingston.<sup>15</sup>
- ii. BARENT COOL (1st), baptized 18 Nov 1663 in Kingston.<sup>16</sup>

Cornelius C. Bogaert [68] and Dirckje P. Coeymans [69]

Cornelius Corneliszn Bogaert [68] was born in Schoenderwoerd, Netherlands, one of four children of Cornelius Teuniszn Bogaert [136] and Beeltje Cornelise [137].<sup>2</sup> Evidence suggests the elder Cornelius and his wife passed away around 1626 as the family's minor children -- Cornelius Corneliszn, his brother Gijsbert and their two younger sisters, Jannetjen and Geertjen -- were placed in the care of their grandfather Theunis Gijsbertszn in den Boogaertman [272] and then, by 1646, they were in the care of their uncle, Louw Theuniszn Bogaert.<sup>3</sup> Louw was already guardian to the children of another deceased brother, Gijsbert Theuniszn Bogaert, and so it was that three families of Bogaert children (twelve known siblings and cousins in all) were at various times under the guardianship of Louw Theuniszn Bogaert.<sup>4</sup> Of these children, four of the Bogaert males were to leave Holland and start new lives in New Netherland, now New York.<sup>5</sup>

The immigration of Cornelius Corneliszn Bogaert [68] and his brother Gysbert Corneliszn Bogaert is consistently reported as around or before 1640, although an exact date is not known.<sup>6</sup> Cornelius's name appears on a notarized document in 1633, giving his residence as Bunnick, Utrecht, Netherlands, which suggests he was born by or before 1615 and that he left for America after 1632.<sup>7</sup>

Cornelius married Dirckje Pieterse Coeymans [69] – said to be the daughter of Peter Coeymans [138] – and started a family in Albany by 1653.<sup>8</sup> It's possible that Cornelius had a wife prior to marrying Dirckje (thirty-eight years old would be relatively late for his first marriage and child) but no strong evidence supporting a prior marriage or children was found.<sup>9</sup>

Of Cornelius's brother, Gysbert, we know that he purchased land on Manhattan Island and eventually settled in Catskill.<sup>10</sup> On 22 Apr 1661, Cornelius had a house and lot rented in Rensselaerswyck and on 3 Sep of the same year, he bought Gysbert's share of the Bogaert family farm (in Schoenderwoerd) that was sold in 1657.<sup>11</sup> Cornelius died not long after, however, and was buried 28 Jul 1665 in Albany.<sup>12</sup>

Children of Cornelius and Dirckje (Coeymans) Bogaert:

- i. JACOB C. BOGART, born about 1653, lived in Albany, married Jannetje Quackenbush in Jan 1679.<sup>13</sup>
- ii. CORNELIUS BOGART [34]
- iii. HENDRICK C. BOGART, born about 1659 in Albany, lived in Kinderhook, married 1st Jannetje Martens about 1682, married 2nd Ruth Waldron 1 Sep 1703.<sup>14</sup>
- iv. JANNETJE BOGART, born about 1662 married Bartholomy Van Alstyne about 1683.<sup>15</sup>
- v. JAN BOGART, lived in Kinderhook, married (possibly 2nd) Catryna Van Wie 5 Apr 1707, settled in Kingston.<sup>16</sup>

Warnaar Hoornbeck [70] and Anna De Hooges [71]

Warnaar was born about 1645, probably in Holland, and likely came to Wiltwyck (previously Esopus, now Kingston), New York about 1660 aboard The Gilded Beaver.<sup>2</sup> By 1662, he was working as a farmhand for Geertrude Andriessen Bradt, daughter of Andries Bratt and widow of Jacob Jansen Stol, one of the founders of Wiltwyck.<sup>3</sup>

Between 1662 and 1670, Warner lived in Wiltwyck and then Hurley, harvesting grain and working as a wagon maker.<sup>4</sup> In 1670, he was listed in a group of Hurley soldiers mustered to confront a local threat.<sup>5</sup>

About 1669 in Hurley, Warnaar married Anna De Hooges [71], daughter of Anthony De Hooges [78] and Eva Bradt [79]; Anna was a first cousin to Warnaar's prior employer, Gertrude Bradt.<sup>6</sup> She was born about 1650 in Beverwyk (now Albany).<sup>7</sup>

Warnaar is listed as a member of the Ulster County militia in Hurley in 1670.<sup>8</sup> In 1686, Warnaar and Anna sold their house in Hurley to Lois du Bois.<sup>9</sup>

Anna likely died sometime between 1690 and 1693 in Ulster County.<sup>10</sup> Warnaar's second wife was Margreit "Grietje" Tyssen and this marriage brought seven additional children.<sup>11</sup> Warnaar died in the Rochester area in 1715.<sup>12</sup>

Jan Willemszen ye Duyster was possibly the son of Willem Jan Willemszen [152] and Aert Peterszen Jack [153] and was born in 1640 in the Netherlands.<sup>2</sup> Jan purchased land in Esopus (now Kingston), New York on 5 Aug 1660 and he married Margariet Cornelisse [77] the same year.<sup>3</sup> Margariet was born in 1642, likely in the Netherlands.<sup>4</sup>

In 1673, Jan was listed as a lieutenant in the New York militia and he appears again in 1686-87 as a corporal -- both assignments under Captain Mathius Mathysen at Kingston.<sup>5</sup> Jan took the oath of allegiance to British rule while in Ulster County on 1 Sep 1686.<sup>6</sup>

Anthony De Hooges [78] and Eva Bradt [79]

Anthony was baptized 14 Dec 1620 in Amsterdam, Netherlands, the youngest of eight children born to Johannes De Hooges [156] and Maria Tijron [157].<sup>2</sup> Anthony was Flemish, his parents likely immigrating to the Netherlands from what is now Belgium.<sup>3</sup> Tragically, the documentary record suggests that Anthony's parents and all of his siblings died sometime before Anthony was five years old, possibly succumbing to the bubonic plague that hit Amsterdam in 1623.<sup>4</sup> Anthony was raised and educated in bookkeeping by co-workers of his father who were employed by the West India Company.<sup>5</sup>

Anthony left for the New Netherland colony of Rensselaerswyck at the age of 21 aboard the ship den Coninck David (King David), departing 30 Jul 1641 from the port of Texel and arriving in New Amsterdam 29 Nov 1641.<sup>6</sup> Unusually stormy weather delayed their arrival by more than a month but, nonetheless, Anthony kept a detailed account of the journey and later colony events (see also Appendix D, p. 52) as requested by the colony's founder and patroon, Kiliaen van Rensselaer.<sup>7</sup>

Anthony arrived in the colony in 1642, serving as the bookkeeping assistant to the colony business manager, and the patroon's cousin, Arent van Curler, who had trouble maintaining accounts and reporting financial information for the settlement.<sup>8</sup> In Oct 1644, however, van Curler left New York for the Netherlands and Anthony, now 24 years old, took over the colony's business responsibilities -- making contracts for buildings, leasing farms (see also Appendix E, p. 53), administering supplies and merchandise for sales, as well as paying the labors.<sup>9</sup> He performed these services at no additional pay for over three years until a replacement arrived to assume the manager role on 22 Mar 1648.<sup>10</sup>

In Oct 1647, Anthony married Eva Bratt [79], daughter of Albert Bratt [158] and Annette Van Rotmers [159].<sup>11</sup> Eva was baptized 9 Jan 1633 in Amsterdam and came to America in 1637 with her parents and her older brother Barent.<sup>12</sup> Anthony served as secretary and council member for the colony in 1648 and he was also a deacon in the Dutch Reformed Church.<sup>13</sup> He purchased a patent for land in Albany on 23 Apr 1652 and soon settled his family there.<sup>14</sup> On 11 Oct 1655, Anthony fell ill and passed away at the age of thirty-five.<sup>15</sup> Local tradition holds that the Hudson River promontory called "Anthony's Nose", near Westchester county, is named after him.<sup>16</sup>

Two years after Anthony's death, on 13 Aug 1657, his wife Eva married Ralph Swartout, the sheriff of Rensselaerwyck; they had nine children together and Eva died sometime after 1689.<sup>17</sup>

Children of Anthony and Eva (Bradt) De Hooges:

- i. MARIA DE HOOGES, born 1648 in NY, married 1st Henry Bries, married 2nd Jacob Lockerman 21 Aug 1696.<sup>18</sup>

Hans Jansen [130] and Reymerigh Volkert [131]

Hans Jansen was from Amsterdam, likely the son of Jan Jansen [260] and Lijsbet Joorisdr [261].<sup>2</sup> Hans was baptized 31 Jul 1605, and it's believed that "he and other Dutchmen went to the island of Nordstrand (northwest of Germany) about 1621 as dike builders."<sup>3</sup>

Hans married Reymerigh Volkert [131] about 1625 and their first child, Marretje Jansen [65] was baptized the following year.<sup>4</sup>

On 11 Oct 1634, the Burchardi flood struck the island of Strand and the coasts of the North Sea, a storm surge boosting waves over the dike systems, drowning more than 8,000 people in the area and sweeping away much of the island.<sup>5</sup>

In 1639, Hans and his wife and three children migrated to America where Hans (now also referred to as Hans Jansen van Norstrand) worked as a farmer and perhaps also as an interpreter in land deals with the indigenous peoples of the Hudson River area.<sup>6</sup>

In 1644, Hans and Reymerigh's daughter Marretje was bound to another family for three years, likely because Reymerigh had passed away around 1641, the year Marretje's youngest sibling was baptized without her mother present.<sup>7</sup>

In March of 1647, Hans purchased farmland on Manhattan island and an additional patent on Long Island in present-day Queens.<sup>8</sup>

Hans married his second wife, Janneken Gerrits, on 29 Nov 1652 and they had four children together.<sup>9</sup> In 1661, Hans owned farmland in Esopus/Wiltwyck, but he was living in Amersfoort (now part of Brooklyn) when he signed his will on 20 Aug 1679.<sup>10</sup> After the British takeover of New Netherland, Hans made his oath of allegiance in Sep 1687.<sup>11</sup> By 1691, Hans had passed away at Amersfoort and his will was executed the following year.<sup>12</sup>

Children of Hans and Reymerigh (Volkert) Jansen:

- i. MARRETJE JANSEN [65]
- ii. CAPTAIN JAN JANSEN, baptized 29 May 1633 in Amsterdam, married Marretje in 1663 in NY, died between 1700-05.<sup>13</sup>
- iii. SYMON JANSEN, baptized 16 May 1638 in Amsterdam, married Maria Fredericks 24 Oct 1662 in Brooklyn, lived in Flatbush, died after 1698.<sup>14</sup>
- iv. RAMMETJIE JANSEN, born in NY, baptized 8 Dec 1641 in Manhattan.<sup>15</sup>

Barent Jacobsen Cool [132] and Marretje L. De Graw [133]

Barent Jacobsen Cool [132] (also known as “Barent Jacobsen”) was born in the Netherlands about 1610.<sup>2</sup> He was the son of Jacob Arents Cool [264] and Aeltje Dircks [265] and was baptized 18 May 1610 in Nieuwe Kerk, Amsterdam.<sup>3</sup> Jacob Arents, the father, was born about 1582 in the Netherlands and Aeltje Dircks [265] was likely born about 1584, possibly at Reusel-de Mierden, Netherlands.<sup>4</sup>

Barent travelled to New Amsterdam (now New York) for the first time in 1633; he and six others signed a treaty with the Sickenam Indians on 8 Jun 1633 to purchase land on the Connecticut river for the West India Company.<sup>5</sup>

About 1636, Barent married Marretje Leenderts De Graw [133] in the Netherlands; Marretje was the daughter of Leendert Arentz De Grauw [266] and Leuntje Alberts Leydecker [267] and was born about 1620 near Amsterdam.<sup>6</sup>

Barent and Marretje immigrated to New York -- with their young son Jacob and with Marretje’s parents -- arriving aboard the ship den Dolphyn on 19 Apr 1638.<sup>7</sup> In New York, Barent was skipper of the yacht Amsterdam from 1638 to 1644, delivering grain to the West India Company from the colony at Rensselaerwyck and sometimes piloting crews unfamiliar with the waters around Manhattan.<sup>8</sup> Between 1654 and 1661, Barent was sworn as a wine and beer carrier and later as an exciseman, guarding the wine and beer trade against fraud.<sup>9</sup> On 14 Apr 1657, Barent was named a “burgher” of New Amsterdam, entitling him to trade in the city.<sup>10</sup> From 1663 to 1665, he was a public porter, authorized to search the ships in New Amsterdam harbor and levy duty on their goods. By 1663, Barent and his family lived on Bridge Street in New York City in a row of houses owned by the West India Company (see Appendix G, p. 55).<sup>11</sup> After the English takeover of New Netherland, Barent took the oath of allegiance to the new English government in Oct 1664.<sup>12</sup>

Marretje died sometime after 1668 and Barent died after 1671.<sup>13</sup>

Pieter Coeymans [138]

Pieter Coeymans was from Utrecht, the Netherlands, and had seven children.<sup>2</sup> His five sons, Barent Pietersz, Lucas Pietersz, David, Jacob, and Arent sailed from the Netherlands to America on 1 Oct 1636 aboard the ship Rensselaerswyck.<sup>3</sup> Records from Rensselaerswyck state that Barent arrived at the colony on 14 Aug 1639 aboard the vessel den Harinck but this may have been a second trip.<sup>4</sup> Barent initially worked for a millwright in the colony and, by 1656, he was operating up to three sawmills and grist-mills at Rensselaerswyck.<sup>5</sup> Lucas Pietersz Coeymans is referenced as Barent's brother in colony records starting in 1650.<sup>6</sup>

In 1672, Barent purchased a large tract of land south of Albany from the Katskill tribe and in 1673 took possession of this tract to build his home and a sawmill near the Hudson River.<sup>7</sup> This land is where the town of Coeymans, New York was later established and remains today.<sup>8</sup>

It is suggested that Dirckje Coeymans [69] was one of the two daughters of Pieter Coeymans [138] and that she came to New York with her husband Cornelius Bogart [68] around the same time as her brothers, before 1640.<sup>9</sup>

Johannes De Hooges [156] and Maria Tijron [157]

Johannes and Maria were likely both from Belgium; Johannes was born about 1578 in Mechelen and Maria was born about 1576 in Antwerp.<sup>2</sup> They were likely both Calvinist immigrants to the Netherlands and were married 15 Apr 1608.<sup>3</sup> Johannes worked as a bookkeeper for the West India Company and was a shareholder there as well.<sup>4</sup>

By 1624, however, Maria and Johannes and all of their children but Anthony De Hooges [78] had died, possibly all succumbing to the bubonic plague that hit Amsterdam beginning in 1623 claiming the lives of approximately ten percent of the city's population between 1623-1664.<sup>5</sup> Anthony was raised by his father's co-workers from the West India Company.<sup>6</sup>

Albert A. Bradt [158] and Annetje B. Van Rotmer [159]

Albert was a sailor from Fredrickstadt, Norway, born about 1607, and married Annetje in the Netherlands on 11 Apr 1632.<sup>2</sup> Annetje was also born in 1607 -- likely in Altenbruch in what is now Germany -- the daughter of Gessel Baerens [319].<sup>3</sup>

Albert was 29 years old when he brought his young family – joined by Albert’s brother, Arent – to America; they sailed 8 Oct 1636 from the seaport of Texel aboard the vessel Rensselaerswyck and arrived at New Amsterdam 4 Mar 1637.<sup>4</sup> Annetje gave birth to the couple’s third child, “Storm Van der Zee” (“storm of the sea”), during the voyage.<sup>5</sup>

In the colony of Rensselaerwyck, Albert was known as “The Norman”; he was a tobacco grower and operated two large sawmills in the Albany area for 20 years.<sup>6</sup> On 29 Aug 1651, Albert purchased a house in New Amsterdam (at Whitehall and Beaver streets, Block R #1-2) and used the adjoining land to operate a warehouse for his tobacco business and for fur trading (see Appendix G, p. 55).<sup>7</sup> Annetje died in 1662 and Albert turned the house over to his eight children, who were still living there in 1667.<sup>8</sup>

Albert later married Geertruy Piertreje Vosburgh.<sup>9</sup> He died 7 Jun 1686 in Ulster County, NY.<sup>10</sup> Sometime after his death, Albert's son-in-law (and Rensselaerswyck sheriff) Roeloff Swartwout recalled, "He was one of the oldest and earliest of the inhabitants of Rensselaerswyck. At the time of his decease, he was proprietor of some lots and houses on the island of the Mannhattans. It was after this man that the creek south of Albany was called 'the Noormans Kill'."<sup>11</sup>

Children of Albert Andriesz and Annetje (Van Rolmers) Bradt:

- i. BARENT BRADT, born about 1628 in The Netherlands, married about 1656 to Susannah Meyers.<sup>12</sup>
- ii. EVA BRADT [79]
- iii. STORM (VAN DER ZEE) BRADT, born at sea 02 Nov 1636, married Hilletje Lansing, lived in Esopus, died 1679 in NY.<sup>13</sup>
- iv. ANGELICA BRADT, born about 1640, married Thomas Slingerlandt of Onisquathaw about 1660.<sup>14</sup>
- v. GISELLE BRADT, born about 1645, married John Van Vichelan, married 2nd Henry Williams.<sup>15</sup>
- vi. JOHN BRADT, born about 1650.<sup>16</sup>
- vii. RICHARD BRADT, born about 1652, lived in Esopus.<sup>17</sup>
- viii. ANDREW BRADT, born about 1654, married Cornelia Verway, married 2nd Sabina Roosa.<sup>18</sup>

Leendert A. De Graw [266] and Leuntje A. Leydecker [267]

Leendert was born in 1601, likely in Alsmer, the Netherlands, a village about 10 miles from Amsterdam.<sup>2</sup> De Graw tradition holds that the family had migrated to the Netherlands from either France or Belgium in the early 1600's and that Leendert and Leuntje lived in Alsmer, near Amsterdam, marrying there.<sup>3</sup> In 1638 they brought their family to New York aboard the ship den Dolphyn, along with their daughter Marretje Leenderts De Graw [133], her husband Barent Jacobsen Cool [132] and their young son Jacob Barentsen Cool [66].<sup>4</sup>

The stormy weather and poor conditions on board made the journey perilous for the passengers and crew.<sup>5</sup> Shortly after arriving in New York, the den Dolphyn captain and crew were called before the Provincial Secretary to answer complaints about the disrepair of the ship and reports that passengers were not provided food during parts of the journey.<sup>6</sup>

By 18 May 1639, Leendert secured a lease for 80 acres from the West India Company to farm and raise animals on Bouwerie ("farm") No. 3, located near the southern tip of Manhattan, north of the walls of Fort Amsterdam.<sup>7</sup> On 22 Sep 1645, Leendert purchased land for a home and garden within the New Amsterdam city walls (Block B #4) and on 20 May 1654 he acquired the lot next door (#5) (see Appendix G, p. 55).<sup>8</sup>

On 17 Apr 1657, Leendert and his oldest son Albert were conferred the "Small Burgher Right," allowing them to trade and conduct business in the city.<sup>9</sup> Leendert sold his No. 3 farm land in 1663 to Peter Stuyvesant, director-general of the New Netherland colony.<sup>10</sup> Leendert passed away the following year in March 1664 and Leuntje likely died by 1668.<sup>11</sup> Children of Leendert Arent and Leuntje (Alberts) De Graw:

- i. MARRETJE LEENDERTS DE GRAW [133]
- ii. CORNELIA LEENDERTS DE GRAW, born about 1626 near Amsterdam, immigrated to NY 1638, died after 1650.<sup>12</sup>

On the 29th of March, in the year 1647, a certain fish appeared before us here in the colony, which, by our estimation, was extraordinary in size. He came from below and swam past us a certain distance up to the sand bars and towards the evening came back again, going past us again downriver. He was snow-white, without fins, his body round, and blew water up out of his head, like whales or tuna. It seemed very strange to us because there are many sand bars between us and the Manhatans, but also because it was snow-white, such as none of us had ever seen; especially, I would say, as it had travelled a distance of more than 20 mijlen of fresh water, as opposed to salt, which is its element. Only the Lord God knows what it could mean. But what is certain is that I and most of the inhabitants watched it with great amazement.

On the same evening that this fish made his appearance before us, we had the first thunder and lightning of the year.

Appendix E - Papscanee Island Land Lease – 1649

Original lease and Dutch translation documenting land purchase by Jurian Westphal [64], written by Anthony De Hooges [78].

On this date, the 14th of January 1649, Evert Pels, with the consent of the Lord Director and the deputies, has conveyed and signed his farm over to Jeuriaen Bestvall and Jochem Kettelheijm on the foregoing terms, word for word, terms which they also readily accept, for the period up to the expiration date stated in the aforementioned terms, for which two sufficient guarantors are required for the tenants' side of the agreement. And the aforementioned Jueriaen Bestvall and Jochem Kettelheijm have signed this instrument of conveyance with their own hands. Done in Rensselaerswijck, dated as above.

This is the mark of Jueriaen Bestval made with his own hand.

... Therefore we sincerely request your Honor, that you please to leave the Ensign here with us, for if he had not been here, we would all have been murdered and the Ensign has given no orders to create this mischief, but I believe, that it was brought about by nobody else, but by Jacob Jansen and the Sergeant ; therefore we sincerely ask your Honor, that you will please to assist us, for else it is impossible to hold out here.

Three of your Honor's horses have also been killed, which were shot below the Fort and eleven belonging to other farmers, also several cows and I might write more of the situation here, but your Honor shall hear it soon.

I beg of your Honor not to think ill of my writing, if I should not have shown you the proper respect, please receive it in good part. No more in regard to this, than to commend you to God's grace and to greet you sincerely.

Acknowledgments

The richest trove of original documents, photos, and research related to Rebecca Westfall was for many years held personally by Rebecca's great-great-granddaughter Shaun Careen Martin who lives not far from the Butler/Westfall ancestral home in Walla Walla, Washington. Shaun was generous enough to provide me with photocopies of many items from that archive, including the portrait of Rebecca featured in this report; a copy of her 1865 certificate of marriage to Norman Butler; as well as transcriptions of Rebecca's personal letters and of interviews with her daughter, Stella Mae Kauffman – all of which are referenced heavily in the profile of Rebecca. This material served as my first acquaintance with the person and history of Rebecca Westfall twenty years ago and I'm deeply indebted to Shaun for that introduction.

Also among these family papers was extensive historical research into the Westfall line performed by Ralph E. Marshall in the 1990's. Mr. Marshall's reports supplied the names, dates, and places upon which my subsequent research was based.

Of the many family and local histories consulted for this report, the following works proved indispensable. Listed in chronological order: Edmund Bailey O'Callaghan's multi-volume series History of New Netherland, Documents relative to the Colonial History of the State of New York, The Register of New Netherland 1626-1674 (1846-1865); David Cole's Isaac Kool (Cool or Cole) and Catharine Serven (1876); Berthold Fernow's Documents relating to the history and settlements of the towns along the Hudson and Mohawk Rivers (1881) and The records of New Amsterdam from 1653 to 1674 (1897); Walter Kenneth Griffin's article "The Dutcher Family" (1909); Jonathan Pearson's Early Records of the City and County of Albany and County of Rensselaerswyck (1918); John A. Bogart's The Bogart Family; Tunis Gysbert Bogaert and his Descendants (1959); Genevieve Lentz's Westfall Research (1985); Shirley Elro Hornbeck's Hornbeck Hunting : Ancestors & Descendants of Warnaar Hornbeck (1994); Richard H. Benson's The Barent Jacobsen Cool Family (2001); and Dirk Mouw, The Memorandum Book of Anthony De Hooges (2012).

All genealogical knowledge relies on prior recorders, researchers, and compilers of historical information. Without the invaluable contributions of the people and work listed above, this history of the ancestors of Rebecca Westfall would not have been possible.
